Confidence Succeeds Doubt Among Wall Street Traders

Northern Securities Stock on the Curb Goes From 164 1-2 to 168 1-4. Stories of Dividend.

NEW YORK, April 10 .- For the most part the international list at the opening of the stock market today opened in accordance with the London quotations. Canadian Pacific was the exception, it ruling strong and % per cent higher. A hesitating tendency, with occasional moderate reactions, extended also to the domestic list Tennessee Coal and Iron, ex-dividend, strength. The tone of the market was uncertain.

After irregularity through a large part of the first hour, the stock market gradually hardened and developed increasing confidence, based to a great extent on the advance in Northern Securities, on the curb, from 164½ to 168¼, a new high record price. Amalgamated Copper was strong from the start, opening ¾ higher, at 84½, and advancing to 86. The large buyers all agreed that their orders were inspired by the belief that the stock will be put on a 6 per cent basis.

Stories were current in the board that the buying of Northern Securities was based on arrangements to declare a special dividend. The point was made that the company is only enjoined from receiving dividends and not from paying them.

London was not in sympathy with the rise, and sold from 25,000 to 30,000 shares. It sold Union Pacific sparingly. Outwardly little can be learned of value concerning the trading in Union Pacific. Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and Harriman brokers bought heavily. There appears to be a shortage of actual Union Pacific certificates. Possibly a great deal of stock has been sold against London calls.

Government bonds unchanged; railroad and other bonds firm.

COTTON OPENS QUIET BUT GAINS STRENGTH

NEW YORK, April 10. - The cotton narket opened very quiet, but developed activity and strength later, partly on fears that the cold weather in the Northwest may work down into the Western cotton belt; in fact, forecast indicates lower temperatures tomorrow.

Against this phase of the situation was a prospect for continued liberal receipts.

Philadelphia interests were again selling July and buying May.

The committee consists of J. G. Huddleston, chairman: George S. Wate.s, Isaac Birch, William S. Waddey, Charles H. Williams, Benjamin B. Hunt, R. M. Mullett, Lem Towers, Jr., and R. S. Clifton.

The celebration will be one of the most elaborate in the history of the grand old lodge.

FISHERMEN ON THE QUI VIVE.

The local fishermen are anxiously awaiting for the opening of the fishing season. The water at the present time is too muddy for the sport, due to the rains in the upper regions of the Potomac. Catfish are reported to be biting quite lively, and a number of good catches of the Mississippi cats have been made during the past week. Yesterday several five-pounders were caught in the vicinity of the Three Sisters. Perch are said to be rather scarce in this vi-cinity. The annual run of herring is ex-pected to ccur as soon as the water clears.

pected to ceur as social clears.
Yesterday, no less than fifty fishing boats were seen anchored in the Potomac around the Three Sisters. This point is said to be the best spot near Georgetown for perch fishing.

OF THE STOCK MARKET

WASHINGTON.

Business was rather light in the local stock market today and mostly at declining prices. Washington Railway common was the leader in volume of trading, 2,000 shares being sold, but at an even lower range than Saturday, 37½ being paid for 950

Mergenthaler was dull, twenty shares selling at 197%.

Lanston was heavy and lower, selling down to 16, which was the closing bid, with 161% asked. Two hundred and eighty-five shares were sold.

Greene Copper gained a stout fraction, 500 shares sel$ling from 23% to 201%. The close was 30 bid and 301% asked.

After the call one $1,000 Potomac Electric 5 per cent bond sold af 108.

NEW YORK.

It seems safe to conjecture that such improvement as the market may dis-play this week will be grounded upon future expectations rather than current actualities. A week from today the mandate in the Northern Securities litigation will be issued by the Supreme Court, and hence according to the manner of the stock market, if the probable effect of the distribution of the Northern Securities stock and surplus has not been already more than fully discounted, it will be discounted this week.

As for the issues which are not affected by any special influencing factor, there would appear to be no adequatte reason for thinking that their course will differ greatly from the general movement of the preceding week, which may be summarized as vacillating and irregular, with a tendency toward reaction, save in a few restricted groups. Still, it should be borne in mind that as long as the steel industry continues

Did Not See Who Fired.

Walter D. Wier could not identify Young as the man who did the shooting, but said he saw one of a party of soldiers fire at Policeman Smith. "I was within about a foot of the policeman, said Wier, "and I saw only one sho fired. The soldier being about ten or twelve feet away at the time." Wier did not know that the policeman had been shot.

Continuing, Mr. Turner told of the flight and subsequent capture of Young, and of the finding of the revolver.

Probably the most important part of Mr. Turner's remarks was that portion devoted to a description of tests made with the same revolver and with blank cartridges of the same kind found undischarged in the weapon, he declaring the belief of the prosecution that a wound of the nature causing Policeman Smith's death could have been inflicted only by the revelver being pressed against the policeman's abdomen.

TUNNEL DIGGERS UNDER

Engineers who went through the tunnel yesterday are singing the praises of the construction work. The work has been characterized throughout by thoroughness and rapidity. Not a serious accident has marred its progress.

The sinking of the pavement near the Congressional Library, it is now claimed, is not due in the slightest degree to any fault in the construction of the tunnel supports, but more probably to some change in the underground water channels caused by the constant pumping out of the water, which is necessary to keep the tunnel dry. The bore would be flooded with water if it were not for the constant use of pumps.

Three gangs of men are necessary for the tunnel work, which is being pushed night and day. Hundreds of electric lights make the long hole in the ground as light as day.

"These constitute four ways of stating one offense," said Mr. Turner.

"John Jacob Smith, the victim of the shooting, was a policeman of the Seventh precinct," said Mr. Turner, "and he had been connected with the force for upward of twenty-five years.
